Embracing New Horizons: My Journey at Chudleigh House School

As the sun rose on a new chapter of my life, little did I know that my journey at Chudleigh House School (CHS) would be a testament to resilience, adaptation, and the power of perseverance. My name is Beance Tanganga, a 15-year-old Grade 10 learner at CHS, and my story echoes the transformative experiences I have encountered since my relocation earlier this year from Congo to Zambia.

They say stepping into a new world feels like embarking on a thousand-mile journey, and for me, that journey began the moment I set foot on CHS grounds. Coming from a French-speaking country, the language barrier posed an initial hurdle. My first day was a tapestry of uncertainties; English felt foreign, conversations seemed like distant echoes, and understanding lessons was akin to decoding an unknown language. The tests? Well, they mirrored my struggle to adapt.

However, amidst the challenges, a beacon of hope shone through, the warmth of my classmates and the unwavering support from CHS teachers. Despite the initial struggle, I found solace in the kind gestures of my peers, slowly easing my way into conversations and friendships. Guided by patient and supportive teachers, the once formidable English language became a bridge rather than a barrier. Gradually, word by word, I began to grasp its nuances, finding my voice in a language that was once alien.

Months rolled by, marking a transformative journey. I am elated to share that my grades have soared, a testament to my perseverance and the nurturing environment fostered by CHS. What was once an insurmountable language barrier has become a testament to adaptability and resilience. My journey at CHS has been nothing short of transformative, and today, I proudly call this place my second home.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Chinyama, my Teacher of French, Ms. Mashewa, my Teacher of Reading and the entire Chudleigh House School for embracing me with open arms and providing an environment conducive to growth. A special note of appreciation to the teachers whose unwavering support and patience played an instrumental role in my linguistic and academic growth. My journey continues, but one thing is certain, CHS is not just a school; it is a sanctuary of growth, friendship, and endless opportunities.

Thank you, Chudleigh House School, for being the canvas upon which I painted my new beginnings.

Unveiling the Thrilling Journey to Fern Media

Venturing into Fern Media on that crisp September day marked an exhilarating journey for all Media club members, myself included. Stepping foot into this realm of creativity was nothing short of awe-inspiring. The grandeur of the space captivated me instantly, setting the stage for an unforgettable experience.

Our expedition led us into Studio 2, a space brimming with possibilities. Here, the intricate art of photography unfolded before our eager eyes. Every detail, every step was unveiled, empowering us with the knowledge of capturing moments frozen in time. Our mentors, Ms. Kabemba, Mr. Mainza and Ms. Sishwani stood as beacons of dedication, guiding us through this enriching journey. However, the pinnacle of excitement arrived when I grasped the camera to immortalize our club's models.

The click of the shutter echoed the thrill of creativity, each snapshot a testament to the lessons learned and the newfound passion kindled within us. Fern Media became more than just a space; it became a sanctuary of learning and expression, nurturing our artistic aspirations.

The Tale of Friendship, Betrayal, and Transformation in Zuba Village

In the quaint village of Zuba, the bond between Chansa, Zack, and Stacy seemed unbreakable, until fate wove a story of compassion, betrayal, and an unexpected transformation. When illness struck Chansa, rendering her unable to move, her friends Stacy and Zack rallied to her side, promising to find a cure.

Amidst the turmoil of Chansa's ailment, Zack proposed a solution a doctor, although far away. But the first hurdle was acquiring a wheelchair. Stacy and Chansa pledged to raise funds, organizing a spirited fundraiser one picturesque Sunday. However, amidst the goodwill, disloyalty hid in the shadows. Zack stumbled upon a shocking sight: Stacy, entrusted with the fundraiser's finances, was stealing the collected funds, cunningly shifting blame onto innocent shoulders. Grandma Sengerah's curse swiftly descended upon Stacy, an otherworldly transformation unfolding as she metamorphosed into a mermaid, forever bound by the consequences of betrayal and greed in the waters of Zuba.

The moral of this story is twofold: first, the value of genuine friendship and loyalty in times of adversity. Chansa's illness brought her friends together, showcasing the importance of supporting each other through difficult times. Secondly, it highlights the consequences of betrayal and deceit. Stacy's actions led to her transformation, serving as a cautionary tale about the repercussions of dishonesty and greed, emphasizing the importance of integrity and honesty in relationships.

Chasing Dawn's Palette

The sunrise, oh, it is a sight to behold! Its palette of blended colors always leaves me in awe. Capturing it was an assignment, but it turned out to be an adventure. I remember it vividly; it was a serene Monday morning. The clock read 5:53 AM, and I knew I had to act fast to freeze that magical moment.

I tiptoed to my mom's room, excitement bubbling within me. Waking her up gently, I explained my mission. Together, we opened every door and window, inviting the first light of the day into our home. The air was crisp, carrying the promise of a new beginning. With the phone camera in hand, I aimed to immortalize the beauty unfolding outside. Click after click, I captured the sunrise's essence, the way it painted the sky with hues of orange, pink, and gold. Each snapshot felt like grasping a fleeting piece of eternity, a moment I could keep forever.

What started as a homework assignment became an unforgettable experience, a shared endeavor with my mom and nature's canvas as my muse.
